

The Scary Scots: Pictish Pebbles

Archaeologists have discovered many pebbles decorated with lines and dots by the Picts in early mediaeval times. They were probably used as some kind of amulet to protect or cure sick people and animals or maybe as sling shots. The patterns were probably painted with peat tar.

Pebble Designs

Choose some pebbles from your garden and wash them
Decorate them with dots and lines using felt pens.